

TRACTION CO. INCOME LESS THAN EXPENSE

All Three Departments Are Operating at Loss, Commission Hears.

ASK FOR INCREASED RATES
Sixty Cent Increase in Gas Needed to Meet Expenses and Provide Return.

Figures tending to show that all three departments of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company have been operated at a loss, were presented to the Wisconsin railroad commission at the hearing this morning at the city hall on the traction company's application for authority to increase its street railway, electric and gas rates. Condensed statements of operating accounts, read to the commission, showed that the gas department had been operated at a loss for the last ten months and that the street railway and electric departments have failed to meet operating expenses in September and October.

No tentative rate schedules were suggested to the commission but the hearing brought out the amount of additional revenue which the company claims is necessary next year to meet operating costs, pay taxes and provide a fair return on invested capital. Figures were presented to the commission by R. G. Smith, engineer and accountant.

Gas Plant Losses
The company has incurred its greatest loss in operation of its gas plant, the commission was told. For the ten months ended October 31, the net operating deficit was $15,550.20. Mr. Smith told the commission that if the ratio of loss is continued for the next two months it will represent a loss of 4.27 per cent on invested capital of $445,857. It was estimated that the company will need $32,000 additional revenue next year to meet operating expenses and provide a return of 7.5 per cent on invested capital. This was figured on a basis of an increase of about 40 per cent in the cost of producing the gas, but does not include additional cost of maintaining the plant or the system of distribution.

It is estimated that in order to increase the revenue by $32,000 it will be necessary to boost gas rates about 60 cents per thousand feet, making the average $1.97. This rate is about the average for the state and is considerably below the rate charged in other cities. The rate in Green Bay is $1.75 per thousand. It was said that coal used in producing gas costs $1.43 per ton more in Appleton than in Green Bay because of extra freight charges. This represents about ten per cent of the total cost of the coal. The commission was told that gas could be purchased in April of 1919 for $6.53 per ton while now the cost is $13 per ton.

Improve Plant
It was said that streets will soon be taken by the traction company's cars here so that it will be able to maintain equal pressure during the entire day. Present income made it impossible to make the necessary improvements, it was said.

The commission was told that the total operating revenue of the gas department was $202,523.30 for the ten months ended October 31, and the net operating cost was $719,573.60. The principal item in the cost account was production, amounting to $54,860.55.

Total revenue totaling $225,000 will be needed from the electric department next year to meet operating expenses and pay a return of 8 per cent on invested capital of $2,870,140. Mr. Smith told the commission to obtain this revenue it will be necessary to increase the rate about nine mills the kilowatt hour, it was estimated.

Small Return on Plant
Net operating revenue for the ten months ended October 31, aggregated $65,840.50, which, if carried out for the remaining two months of the year, will represent a return of 2.75 per cent on the invested capital. The department, however, has incurred deficits for the last two months.

The condensed account presented to the commission listed the total operating revenue at $548,235.44 and the operating expense as $489,395.94.

The principal items in the income account are $132,687.32 for commercial lighting; $378,450.05 for commercial power; $26,412.38 for municipal contract lighting. The biggest operating expense is the cost of generating the power, which aggregated $357,799.98. This item includes the cost of coal and of labor employed in the power house. An interesting observation made to the commission in this connection is that only 20 per cent of the company's power is generated by water, whereas in 1912, 97 per cent was of hydraulic generation. It was said that every kilowatt increased consumption placed an additional load on the steam equipment. The commission was told that in April of 1919 it was possible to purchase steam coal for $6 per ton while the cost now is $10.49 per ton.

Higher Car Fares
The street railway department must yield $62,100 additional revenue next year if it is to pay its own way and provide a 7 1/2 per cent return on invested capital of $1,164,126. Mr. Smith said. In estimating the cost for next year, increased costs of labor and fuel only were considered. Increased Leagues of U. S. Colby's Note on League Geneva—Japan Declares obligations to World — Propose Annual Meeting for League.

Geneva.—America's voice was heard in the league of nations assembly today when Secretary Colby's Mesopotamian note to Great Britain caused wide comment.

The secretary's note, demanding recognition of the commercial rights of other countries in the mandate territory, was greeted warmly by neutral states without mandates. It was declared the American note had added strength to the delegates seeking to air the activities of the league's council in the distribution and administration of mandates over German colonies.

It was believed certain the mandate question would be considered in the assembly today although it may be delayed. Other matters expected to arise soon are the Armenia situation and the admission of the former triple alliance powers.

The first Monday of every September was proposed as the regular meeting date of the league assembly. It was believed the assembly will approve the plan, suggested by the assembly's commission organization.

ARMED SOLDIERS MAINTAIN ORDER IN STRIKE AREA

Martial Law Is in Force in Mingo, W. Va., Following Threatened Rioting.

By United Press Leased Wire
WHEELING, W. Va.—The strike zone in Mingo county, scene of many sanguinary encounters between striking coal miners and mine guards, and private detectives, was quiet today.

Federal troops armed with machine guns, are at strategic points in the district affected by the strike. The number of strikers was estimated at all the way from 2,000 to 5,000. Many of them were reported heavily armed and prepared to renew their fight against the coal companies and non-union workers.

Colonel Hoffman Hall, commanding the troops, issued a proclamation declaring the military in complete control of the strike zone. He directed all civil officials to place themselves under the instruction of army officers. Governor Cornell who asked for the troops and martial law also issued a proclamation last night in which he declared that Mingo county is in a state of insurrection.

In order to be in a position to deal swiftly with possible outbreaks at any point in the county, Col. Hall dispatched bodies of troops to surrounding towns.

In addition to the troops, the county is being patrolled by a detachment of state constabulary and a company of picked deputy sheriffs.

Col. Hall issued an order forbidding public meetings, except by permission.

MUCH LEGISLATION AWAITS CONGRESS

Proponents of New Measures Undismayed by Congressional Attitude.

(BULLETIN)
Washington, D. C. — President Wilson has accepted the invitation of the league of nations to act as mediator between the Turkish nationalities and Armenia, the state department announced today.

Washington—Congress upon reconvening Monday will find on the capital steps a huge pile of demands for new legislation.

Although congressional leaders have stated that the next session will be so short that there will be little time for any legislation except the regular appropriation bills, undismayed representatives of scores of organizations are arriving here daily to tell congress what it ought to do.

Veteran congressmen, such as Champ Clark, believe congress will be in continuous session for more than a year after President-elect Harding takes office.

President Wilson probably will make several legislative recommendations including immediate revision in taxes.

Representatives of the farmers and congressmen from farming districts will have an extensive program of agricultural readjustment to submit. With it also will be demands for some temporary legislation to relieve the situation resulting from the decline in prices.

Service men, the American legion, have agreed to make a "big drive" for the passage of the four fold plan of relief as recommended by the legion.

Labor, through the executive council of the American Federation of Labor has formulated its legislation demands chief of which is that immigration be suspended for two years. It will also announce that it will fight all proposed efforts to enact antileague laws.

MORE IDLENESS AS BUSINESS IS SLOWING DOWN

Seventh Federal Reserve Bank Survey Says Unemployment Is Increasing.

WAGES REMAIN UNCHANGED

City Workers Are Leaving for Smaller Towns But Not for Farms.

(By J. L. O'Sullivan)
By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Unemployment has increased steadily in the midwest during the last month, while the volume of business has declined, the seventh federal reserve bank of Chicago reported today in a survey of conditions in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri and portions of Kansas and Nebraska.

While men are more plentiful than jobs, the report stated the amount of idleness is no greater at the present time than at this period in the winter of 1914.

Ten per cent of the men employed in the steel plants have been thrown into idleness, the report found.

"The labor scarcity in the steel districts of a few months ago has vanished," the report said, "and men are at the gates seeking employment every morning."

Those engaged in building lines estimate that 50 per cent of the men are out of work.

No Return to Farms
"Workmen who were attracted to the industrial centers in the allocation of labor, are now returning to their former homes," the report stated, "but so far the return has not relieved the situation on farms where wages approximating war-time figures are being paid corn huskers."

The survey finds that in some basic industries little complaint is heard of unemployment. The Chicago stock yards was found operating with normal forces.

"Speaking generally," the statement said, "business has not been changed materially. Here and there concessions have been made in order that total unemployment may be avoided."

Railroad shop forces were being curtailed, the investigation showed, but this is manifesting itself more particularly among larger trunk lines leading to the eastward.

The report emphasized that the let down in business activity in the midwest appeared to be less than is being experienced in the east.

Discussing business conditions in the seventh district's territory, the survey declared uncertainty almost completely dominates business calculation. Distinctly uneven declines in individual prices are factors in retarding business activities.

The recession in prices which "has already manifested itself in foodstuffs and textiles, is reported extending to other commodities heretofore unaffected," the survey found, "but there are industries which have experienced little, if any, readjustment."

Other Findings were:
Few people are buying automobiles and with the exception of some of the larger manufacturers automobile plants are either closed or operating on such a small scale that their production is less than 20 per cent normal.

Railroads are buying little rolling stock, although the purchasing of rails continued. The car loadings have ceased up since the middle of October and the car shortage is being rapidly reduced.

In nearly every section, stores are attempting to liquidate their stock through special sales and the buying is from hand to mouth.

Cancellation of orders has been large in all lines of merchandise. Manufacturers report liquidation of debts is very slow.

Mail order houses business shows considerable decrease.

Hold Up Grain
Farmers are withholding their grains from the market due to the readjustment of market values. Forty per cent of last year's wheat crop is still in the farmers' hands.

Cattle loan companies are facing the problem of financing the winter's needs of producers and the local banks are still carrying some of last winter's advances, as shrinkages in market values have wiped out a great many equities.

NO U. S. REPRESENTATIVE AT OREGON CEREMONIES

Washington.—The state department today made plain it does not approve of American officials attending the inauguration of President-elect Oregon in an official capacity.

One of the governors planning to attend the inauguration of President-elect Oregon in an official capacity, it was learned the department replied that while acceptance of the invitation would be "misleading," the department did not feel it could advise the governor as to his duty. The name of the governor was not revealed.

The department also announced it has instructed George T. Summerlin, charge at Mexico City, not to attend the inauguration of President-elect Oregon in an official capacity.

BELIEVE ERIN HAS DECLARED WAR ON BRITAIN

Irish Documents and Proclamations Indicate That Open War Is Coming.

PROTECTING PARLIAMENT

Reprisals Follow After Sixteen Police Are Murdered From Ambush.

(By Webb Miller)
By United Press Leased Wire
London.—That the Sinn Fein parliament has formally declared a state of war with England was the belief today of many officials of the Irish office.

The Irish office has no direct information that war has been declared by Dail Eireann, the Sinn Fein parliament but evidence is accumulating to indicate that such a step had been taken.

Backed by that formal declaration, Sinn Fein forces have leaped into a renewal of the attack on British forces here and in Ireland.

The Dublin murders, the attacks on police patrols culminating in the slaughter of sixteen black and tans at Kilmichael were accepted here as the work of men who regarded themselves as carrying on a legalized war.

All Wore Uniforms
The Sinn Feiners who surrounded the two police lorries at Kilmichael killing all but one of the patrol, wore uniforms and steel helmets, according to dispatches today. This was regarded as an attempt to conform to the regulations of civilized warfare. Never before in any such attack have the Sinn Feiners appeared in uniforms.

Among documents pointing to a declaration of war was a Dail Eireann decree printed in the Freeman's Journal in Dublin. It instructed physicians that British soldiers wounded in action should be cared for. This was supposed to be another effort to observe the rules of warfare.

Sinn Feiners heretofore have spoken of their efforts as acts of war but it was believed here they are going to greater lengths than ever before, supported by a document to legalize their action.

Parliament Threatened
British officialdom moved today in fear of a second Guy Fawkes plot to blow up the houses of parliament.

While government offices functioned as usual, the work was transacted behind a screen of guards and only in the presence of persons who had proven their identity as their loyal subjects to the government.

In the houses of parliament many plain clothes men circulated with the crowds. They were expert marksmen, ready for action.

The Irish office today declared that the Sinn Fein attacking party at MacRoom was an "extermination gang."

It was charged the attacking party wilfully slaughtered policemen who surrendered when they saw the fight was hopeless.

"After a fierce battle," it was said, "the attackers closed in and shot all the police who had thrown down their weapons and surrendered."

Slain From Ambush
Dublin.—Smouldering ruins in the neighborhood of MacRoom today marked the funeral rites of sixteen police murdered in ambush last Sunday night.

Immediate reprisals on the population resulted in the burning of cottages, creameries and other buildings.

Word here was that Sir Haman Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, did not propose to check the police too severely in punishing Sinn Feiners for the ambushes.

Reports of the ambush today said that from eighty to 100 men securely hidden, poured a solid leaden fire into the lorries.

The roundup of Sinn Feiners continued uninterrupted today. Activity here was marked last night by raids on the newspapers as well as the Sinn Fein bank.

The Freeman's Journal, was reported to have been fired after uniformed men searched the editorial rooms.

Much damage was done to the Irish Times building where the staff was surprised by soldiers.

GOLD BOX, STOLEN FROM SCHWAB, SOLD IN EUROPE

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—A golden casket, presented by the city of Baltimore to Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, was stolen from his New York mansion on Riverside drive, Schwab declared today.

Schwab discovered the golden casket was missing today when he read an article in a New York newspaper stating that such a box had been sold in Germany by a sailor of the steamship Mongolia. This casket bore the initials "C. M. S." It answered the description of one which the steel magnate had last seen in the library of his New York residence. Investigation showed this casket was missing.

How many other articles were taken from the Schwab home by the burglars is unknown. A check up of the valuable objects in the home is being made. Schwab is at South Bethlehem, Pa.

Five Years In Jail For Ponzi "Bushelbasket Millionaire" Pleads Guilty to Charge of Using Mails to Defraud — Attorney Says "Wizard" Has Only One Suit of Clothes Left.

By United Press Leased Wire
Boston, Mass.—The final chapter in the career of Charles Ponzi, "bushelbasket millionaire," was written today when Judge Clarence Hale in United States district court sentenced the self-styled financial wizard to five years in Plymouth jail after he pleaded guilty to using the mails to defraud.

It was only after Rose Ponzi, the "wizard's" wife had tearfully pleaded with him that Ponzi consented to plead guilty. He told the court through his counsel, if he was given his liberty he would in a few months meet all the claims against him. He declared it had never entered his mind that his financial scheme would bring ruin to hundreds of men and women who poured their hard earned savings into his shabby little office in expectation of big dividends.

Ponzi after several months in jail, appeared in court today flashing the smile that made him famous. He was immaculately clad in a brown suit and black overcoat. The lines of worry that furrowed his brow when he was arrested had disappeared and he looked cheerful and confident.

Rose Ponzi clung to his arm. She patted his shoulder frequently, stroked his face with her hand and once she adjusted his tie and smiled at him.

"But she had to wink hard to keep back the tears. Mrs. Ponzi was richly dressed in a black gown, patent leather pumps and spats, and wore a fashionable gray squirrel coat and a chic black velvet hat.

Ponzi, once master of millions, now has but one suit of clothes, his lawyer said in making a plea for mercy. His wife has three dresses and has no money.

Ponzi heard his sentence with composure. He walked to the doorway with a deputy marshal, turned there to smile at his tearful wife, took time to insert a cigarette in a delicately wrought holder and light it, then he walked out. The entire hearing had consumed less than an hour.

Rose Ponzi sat close to her husband during the hearing, her head bowed as she tried to control her sobs. Ponzi, gravely eyeing the judge, abstractedly patted his wife's hand.

As Ponzi smiled his farewell to her, Mrs. Ponzi's head dropped and she remained in her seat for several minutes, weeping bitterly. Later she was permitted a farewell embrace in the marshal's office. Ponzi emerged with tears in his eyes, lacking for the first time the nonchalant and jaunty air, he has carried through his difficulties.

BRIBERY CHARGE SHARPLY DENIED BY WILSON KIN

R. W. Bolling, Wilson's Brother-in-Law, Tells of Black-mail Threats.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—R. Wilmer Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, sharply denied today accusations made to the congressional committee investigating the shipping board that he had ever received a bribe in the placing of board contracts.

Bolling described his relation with Tucker K. Sands, former cashier of the Commercial National bank of Washington, who he said, seemed to have been responsible for starting the rumors of the alleged bribery.

Anonymous letters and threats of exposure reached him throughout 1919, he said. They appeared after he had refused to interfere with President Wilson on behalf of Sands.

"Who either was about to be, or had been indicted," on charges made by bank examiners.

Bolling said Sands and his wife called him by telephone early in 1919 and urged him to help Sands. He visited the bank official, he said, and was begged to intervene with the president.

"At his request, I took him to see Senator Owen of Oklahoma. The senator sympathized with Sands but said he could do nothing."

Bolling said while he was in Europe on shipping board business an anonymous letter was sent W. G. McAdoo. McAdoo he said, turned the letter over to a brother of the witness. It directed McAdoo to "ask Bolling about the $40,000 he received" from the shipping company.

The note was signed "M." Bolling said.

Famous Political Writer On Post-Crescent Staff

David Lawrence Will Write Daily Letter on Events in National Capital.

The Appleton Post-Crescent has secured the services, as Washington correspondent, of David Lawrence, probably the best known writer on political, international and economic affairs in the national capital today.

Mr. Lawrence's dispatches will appear daily in this paper beginning today.

This gives the Post-Crescent a Washington service equal to that of many of the largest cities in the United States, and provides our readers with a daily letter on the "inside situation" at Washington that they can rely upon as accurate and authoritative.

Mr. Lawrence began newspaper work in 1903 on the Buffalo Express, working as a reporter until 1908, when he entered Princeton University.

During his four years at Princeton he was correspondent for the Associated Press, and after five months of work, which included "covering" the White House at night, he was sent to Mexico to write about the revolutionary troubles there. On his return in 1911

WILSON KEEPS HIS MESSAGE A DARK SECRET

No Inking of What President Will Tell Congress From White House.

MAY APPEAR IN PERSON

Belief Persists That President Will Make Farewell Appearance in Capitol.

By David Lawrence
Washington.—Congress gets back next week for its regular December session but whether President Wilson will deliver his annual address in person as he has done so many times before or whether he will send it to be read by a clerk as other presidents used to do is still undetermined.

The president himself wants to make a farewell appearance at the capitol and is said to be well enough to do so. Yet there is always a risk with one who has had a nervous breakdown that excitement might bring on a recurrence of the same trouble.

Whenever any decision has had to be made involving a risk to the president's health, the members of the president's family have always played safe by avoiding the risk altogether.

That's why it seems unlikely that Mr. Wilson will go to congress though he is strong-willed and may insist on doing it. There are of the other hand those who think the president might be persuaded to postpone his visit until the close of the session in March and say good bye then.

No Inking of Message
As for the contents of the presidential message which is being prepared no inking has been given. From a political viewpoint, if for no other, there will be recommendations that congress reduce the burden of taxes and also cut the list of living.

Of course it is unlikely that the republicans will permit any action to be taken on the recommendations of a democratic president since their own president will take office in three months and call an extra session of congress to adopt a legislative program. The democrats, however, talk of wasted time and opportunity and will not lose the chance to accuse the republicans of dilatory tactics and political expediency.

On the other hand, the republicans have already counter with this query: Would President Wilson sign a republican tax bill especially, one that proposed the raising of revenue by the imposition of a protective tariff? White House officials say Mr. Wilson would sign a tariff bill if it followed the lines of suggestions on that question which he has already made to congress.

The president has favored protection for infant industries and others whose economic relationship to the tariff question has been disturbed by war but he has by no means indicated that he would sanction the kind of tariff bill which the republicans would put before him.

Need Time For Tariff
To work out any kind of tariff bill would take practically all of a session of congress and leaders of both sides agree that unless there was an assurance of compromise the time would be wasted. But the republicans who want high protection care nothing about a compromise bill and without any influence from the White House, the tariff bill that would be drawn

CHAFIN, LEADING DRY WORKER, DIES

Former Badger and Twice Candidate for President, Dead in Los Angeles.

By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Cal.—Eugene Chafin, 68 years old, twice a candidate for president of the United States and prohibition ticket, died at his residence here today.

Death presumably was the result of burns suffered ten days ago when a gas heater exploded in his home.

Chafin was born at Troy, Wis., November 1, 1852. He wrote several books including one "Lincoln, the Man of Sorrow."

He married and later practiced law in Waukegan, Wis. He first became active in prohibition circles in the late nineties. At one time he was head of a home here for drunks.

He was the prohibition presidential candidate in 1908 and 1912. He was also a candidate for governor of Wisconsin in 1898, and for attorney general in Illinois and Wisconsin, in 1904 and 1896 respectively.

Chafin removed to Arizona in 1909. He was a lawyer by profession.

MILK DEALERS THREATEN TO SELL THEIR HERDS

Milwaukee.—A serious shortage and higher prices for milk were predicted here at a meeting of producers and distributors, held in an effort to agree on prices for December. The conference was called at the request of farmers of Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Waukesha and Racine counties.

Some farmers have threatened to sell their herds. It was said that milk is bringing less than cost.

Backward Pupils Are Puzzle To Teachers

Supervisory Teachers From Nine Counties Hold Two Day Meeting Here.

"We should like to have the supervising teachers tell us what they want done rather than wait for us to make the suggestions and use our initiative to carry them out."

This statement was made by Dr. W. J. Osburn, Madison, of the state department of public instruction, in a discussion of "The Use of Standard Tests in the Promotion of the Children in the Elementary Schools."

The subject was taken up at the opening session of the northeastern Wisconsin supervising teachers' meeting Monday afternoon in the county school superintendent's office at the court house.

Mr. Osburn said that the situation in Madison is different from that in the rural communities. He thought that those who are in the rural schools should know what to suggest better than the state department.

Individual Attention
"The problem," said Mr. Osburn, "is what to do with the pupil who is backward in intelligence." He said that in many cases a student in the eighth grade had only the reading ability and intelligence of a sixth grader. The backward pupil should be given individual tests by the teacher so that he or she may be able to determine just where the trouble lies. Failure may be due to inability to pronounce words. For such inability one of the teachers suggested word drill.

Another case for failure to come up to average reading intelligence is wrong phrasing. The speaker gave an example of how one could easily lose sense of the article by phrasing the sentences wrong.

"A third cause may be due to slow reading. The student sometimes reads too slowly to get the idea of the sentence. Oral reading in schools is one of the chief causes for slow reading. It also encourages lip reading."

Dr. Osburn told of an article which he had seen in "Educational Research" which compared the intelligence of people in different walks of life. The article was based upon tests that had been made. It was found that people in clerical positions were not very high in intelligence, and even the elementary teachers stood somewhat in the shadow. However, the elementary teacher's standard was much higher than any of the others mentioned.

Not Always Stupid
Several of those present thought that low intelligence of the child was due to other causes than plain stupidity. Several times, as is the case in rural schools, the pupils are overworked at home. When they reach school they have no ambition to study. One supervising teacher said that in one school certain backward students were not allowed to go to movies except on Saturday or Sunday, and they were expected to be in bed at a certain hour every night. Corrections were made in the quality of food which the pupils ate, and it was found that they picked up in their work. For those reasons, the teachers did not believe that environment was the only factor in determining the intelligence of the child.

Dr. Osburn said that the tests should be given at teachers' institutes so that the teachers would know just how to proceed when giving tests to their pupils.

He said that the rural schools in general are not up to the city in reading ability. He said that many times students entered high school with not enough intelligence to comprehend sixth or seventh grade matter. He did not believe that such students should be taught algebra and other high school subjects.

"In spite of all our efforts to enforce the compulsory attendance laws," said county superintendent A. G. Meating, "it is shocking to note that only 19 per cent of the student population goes to high school, when 50 per cent ought to be going." It was thought that this condition was due to the fact that the pupils had learned to dislike school on account of their backwardness.

"There are three things which we must do," said Dr. Osburn. "First, we must stop the defect which holds the child from doing good work; then we must find a remedy; and lastly we must work to put across that remedy."

The meeting was adjourned until nine o'clock Tuesday morning. The program will be a continuation of the discussion which was started on Monday.

At 6 o'clock supper was served at the Y. M. C. A. for the supervising teachers from nine counties, two counties having failed to send representatives.

Miss Francis Herold of Algoma, winner of the Milwaukee Journal Trip to Europe, discussed her experiences in Europe.

TO TEACH VALUE OF SAFETY FIRST

Children and Grown-ups Will See Movie and Hear Lecture at Chapel.

All is in readiness for the "safety first" meetings at Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday afternoon and evening, under auspices of Appleton Boy Scout council. The program includes an address on safety by R. C. Richards, Chicago, chairman of the central safety committee, followed by a moving picture portraying effective lessons in safety.

The principals of the schools are showing considerable interest in the gathering for school children at 3:30 o'clock. Practically every child in Appleton is expected to attend. Most of the teachers plan to accompany the pupils of their rooms, going to the chapel in a body.

High school and seventh and eighth grade pupils will be urged to attend the evening session starting at 7:30 o'clock. It is the plan of W. B. Basing to have the Chicago and Northwestern railroad employees and the men of the various Appleton mills attend also, with the idea of encouraging safety first methods among them.

Must Teach Safety
The schools are taking special interest in the lecture and picture because of a Wisconsin statute which requires the teaching of safety in the public schools. The law provides that it is the duty of each teacher in a public school to devote not less than 30 minutes a month to the subject of safety. It requires that the state superintendent of public instruction prepare suitable material for this purpose, and include it in the manual published for schools.

The moving picture to be shown was prepared by the Chicago and Northwestern railway in its efforts to reduce the number of accidents along the right of way. It is said that over 4,500 fatalities are held yearly for those who use railroad tracks as a public highway. During the last 29 years 139,399 persons were killed and 141,392 were injured walking on tracks or "flipping" cars. The pictures will give an effective visual lesson of the sources of danger, the follies practiced by thoughtless people, and the means of averting loss of life or limb. No admission is charged.

FISKE O'HARA AS PLEASING AS EVER

Irish Tenor, in New Vehicle, Delights Immense Crowd at Theater.

Fiske O'Hara in his new Irish melody comedy, "Springtime in Mayo," delighted a packed house at Appleton theater Monday evening. The play was replete with Irish wit and was made all the more appreciative through O'Hara's Irish tenor solo.

O'Hara played his role as Terence McWarren with his usual skill, supported by a well balanced cast. An especial favorite of the audience was the golden haired Patricia Clary, who played the part of Betty Walsh. Her endless flow of wit, coupled with her charm and personality, won the admiration of her audience from her first appearance.

The plot was a pleasing, wholesome story built around the love affairs. Mistaken identity led to the eventual marriage of Terence McWarren and Betty Walsh and unwittingly foiled the attempt of Betty's father to marry her off to McWarren's older brother merely for a title, the bargain including half of Walsh's fortune. The play had a happy ending when the elder McWarren was reconciled to Lady Olga, the sweetheart he tried to jilt, played by Nan Bernard.

O'Hara's wooing of Betty after love at first sight, was made beautifully impressive by his Irish love songs which fitted themselves into the plot. Among the songs were "Springtime in Mayo," "A Bit of the Brogue," "Top of the Morning," "The Lilac Tree," and "Don't You Love to Dream of Old Ireland."

A cello solo by George Bornhaupt, a violin solo by Morris Primer, and a piano solo by Paul Martin, between acts, were well received.

CHURCH CHOIRS WORK ON NEW CHRISTMAS PAGEANT
The combined choirs of the Congregational church under the direction of Carl J. Waterman, dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, will present a Christmas pageant, "The Pageant of the Nativity" at the Congregational church, December 12 and 13. The music is entirely different from that in the pageant of last season. It will be selected from the "Messiah," Matthew's "Story of Christmas," and Luther's "Bethlehem."

New stage settings and scenery is being constructed for the different episodes. The entire choir will be costumed. The solo parts will be taken by Miss Lily Sindahl, Marion Ramsey Waterman, Eleanor Mehl Berger, Winifred Wilson Quinlan, Clement Hackworthy, Winifred Alexander and Fred Trezise.

SLACKENING BUSINESS CAUSES UNEMPLOYMENT
A west College avenue merchant says that quite a number of young men who were employed in the mills and factories of the city during and since the war have applied at his store for work. He says they have been thrown out of employment, not by mills shutting down, but by a cancellation of orders. The Ford Wheel Drive plant and the tractor plant in connection with it at Clintonville are still in operation, but are running light.

Pick "Y" Committees
Committees for the coming year will be named at the monthly supper of the dormitory men of the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

That Sore Throat Needs Begy's Mustarine
When your throat is sore, it's a sure sign you need Begy's Mustarine. That is, if you want to get rid of it in the quickest possible time. It's really marvelous how this real yellow mustard plaster will end sore throat, tonsillitis, chest colds, pleurisy and bronchitis.

It's no exaggeration to say that it often cures them over night, and it's just as speedy a remedy for neuralgia, lumbago, stiff neck, aching feet, sore muscles and swollen joints.

Rub it on freely. It cannot blister, but it surely will ease the pains of rheumatism and gout, and you won't have to wait till to-morrow for relief. You'll find it in a yellow box full of Begy's Mustarine and one small box will do the work of 50 blistering mustard plasters.

Schlitz Brothers Co. can supply you.

RUSH IMPROVEMENT OF TELULAH MILL

Fox River Company to Take Over Plant After First of Next Year.

The Fox River Paper company, which purchased the Telulah mill from the Kimberly-Clark company several months ago, and which has been making extensive improvements ever since, will take it over January 1, 1921. It will be converted into a writing paper mill, but whether this can be done at the time the transfer is made depends upon the arrival and installation of new machinery.

The new three story addition to the east end of the mill, which is to be used as the rag department, has just been completed and the machinery is now being placed. The Appleton Construction company is at present placing the cement roof on the new setting.

The office of the mill has been enlarged and numerous changes made. A new linoleum floor is being laid and new fixtures added. It is the intention of the new owners to retain the present employees of the mill.

Faculty at Play
A Lawrence College faculty volleyball game is scheduled for seven o'clock Friday evening at Alexander Gymnasium. The Fairfield Lions will combat Farley's Lambs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones of Hortonville, were in the city Monday.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best
Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfils almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores. adv.

J. Weller Long Exonerated At First Equity Hearing

Former Secretary-Treasurer of State Union Called to Witness Stand.

Exoneration of J. Weller Long from blame for the alleged insolvent condition of the National Union of the American Society of Equity, was virtually accomplished in the adverse hearing conducted at Madison Friday and Saturday as the opening wedge in the action brought by Anton M. Saxer, Kaukauna, against present and former officers of the national union demanding an accounting. The testimony also showed that a full treasury two years ago had resolved itself into an alleged deficit of approximately $13,000.

Mr. Long who was formerly secretary-treasurer of the union, and Arthur Sampson, incumbent, were summoned before Rufus B. Smith, court commissioner of the circuit court of Dane county, to tell what they knew of the union's books and affairs. Ex-on record at the time of the hearing out of a possible 40,000 formerly claimed by the union. An additional 10,000 was reported who were 90 days or more delinquent.

A report prepared by the union December 7, 1918 showed that the treasury contained $3,000 in certificates of deposit at a Madison bank, $1,100 in Liberty bonds and $5,878.84 in a checking account at a bank, or total quick assets of nearly $11,000. Liabilities, $294.60. A report issued November 30, 1919, showed $1,100 in Liberty bonds on hand and $1,242.96 in cash. The remainder of the quick assets had been used to meet losses during the year.

It was stated by both Mr. Long and Mr. Sampson that J. N. Titterton, former president of the union owes the national body $660.89.

The testimony showed that the Wisconsin Union of the American Society of Equity has refused to pay dues to the national union since the middle of the year. It is claimed that the national union owes the state body amination of the two men was conducted by Joshua L. Johns, of the firm of Morgan and Johns, Appleton, representing Miller and "others standing in the same situation." Long, with J. N. Titterton, Omro; James Clemmons, Kaukauna; Walter Foster, Neillsville; and J. H. Carnahan, Black River Falls, the latter as president of the union, are named in the action.

$18,000 Liabilities

The hearing divulged the information that the liabilities of the national union amounted to over $18,000 and that the assets were estimated at about $5,000. The liabilities include $7,000 owing a Madison bank, over $3, in open accounts, $745 due the present secretary and $700 due Walter Foster, director, for salaries. The union also owes the attorneys retained by its body $546.59 besides the $420 paid them this summer.

The assets at the time of the hearing included less than $100 cash on deposit in a Madison bank; furniture and fixtures and accounts receivable that appeared to be more or less questionable in value. The secretary stated that he believed the union to be at least $13,000 "in the hole."

Collections Fall Off

Extracts from the records showed that the national union had collected dues from the members from December 1, 1919 to July 1, 1920, amounting to $6,343.49; since then only $1,161.95 has been collected, or only one-fifth as much. The reports also showed that the membership was rapidly dwindling. There were 28,358 members about $7,000 but there is said to be an offset through dues collected from the members to be turned over to the national union.

Of the outside states represented, Illinois, South Dakota, Washington, Wyoming and Michigan have all been holding up payment of dues to the national union, some entirely and others partially.

Books Well Kept

The national union is said to have collected dues up to October 30, 1920, amounting to $2,425.46, and that all of this amount has already been spent. The operating expenses are said to be about $800 a month.

It was found that the books had been kept in good condition by J. Weller Long while secretary-treasurer. He had been accused in a series of interviews for alleged questionable management of funds, but this was found to be untrue as the hearing progressed. Mr. Long stated that the cause of the losses was partially due to reducing the amount of the dues paid by the state union to the national from 50 cents to 30 cents per member. Losses were also incurred in the operation of the business department and through publication of the official paper, the National Equity News.

Mr. Miller, who brought the action is a member of Little Chicago local of the Wisconsin Equity Union, and resides near Kaukauna.

TRACY HAS BEEN BOARD MEMBER FOR 24 YEARS

John Tracy of Appleton is the oldest member in point of service on the county board. He has been a member continuously since 1896 and acted as chairman for twelve years. There are only three other ex-chairmen living, David Hodgins of Hortonville, father of Douglas Hodgins, present chairman, Adolph Lockschmidt and Louis Wurl.

Of the deceased members who acted as chairman, Peter Tubbs, of Seymour, and John Brill of Buchanan served the longest terms. Peter Tubbs was chairman at the time the workhouse was built twenty-five years ago, solving the tramp nuisance.

TINSELED POSTAL CARDS HELD UNDELIVERABLE

At least 50 Thanksgiving greeting cards are being held at the Appleton postoffice undelivered because they were not mailed according to postal regulations.

The cards all have a coating of tinsel on the designs, the substance resembling powdered glass. Such cards are accepted for mailing only when placed in sealed envelopes with two cent stamps affixed, because of the possibility that the tinsel cards will be injurious to men handling them.

Senders of these cards may call for them at the postoffice and either withdraw them from mailing or place them in envelopes with proper postage and have them forwarded.

"It will be well for postal card dealers to inform their patrons of the mailing regulations for tinsel cards," said Postmaster Gustave Keller. "Many people will wonder why their cards were not acknowledged, when in reality they could not be sent. A word to the purchaser would save this disappointment."

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Roehne, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Shrank of Wittenborg left Sunday for Chicago, where they will attend the stock show. They will return in about a week.

Park McMeekin, James Miller and Raymond Ritger of Hortonville spent Monday evening in the city and attended "Springtime in Mayo."

Says Chemist Is Public Benefactor

"Being a doctor, and suffering for many years with stomach trouble, I feel I cannot do justice to so great a public benefactor in writing. May's Wonderful Remedy is everything you have claimed for it. I can now eat and relish victuals I have not dared to eat in many years. Am feeling like newly born." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince of money refunded.—At All Druggists.

INDORSES XMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Milwaukee Commercial Body
Investigates State Tuberculosis Body.

Endorsement is given the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association by the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, according to a letter received by the Appleton chamber. The communication urges every possible co-operation in the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals.

The Milwaukee body, through W. C. Carlson, president, and Phil A. Grau, business manager, made a thorough investigation of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association because of slanders that have been hurled at it on several occasions, particularly through an article recently published in a certain magazine. The letter reads in part:

"We can unhesitatingly recommend the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association as an organization worthy of every possible practical and moral support you may be able to give it. It was organized to arouse the public and prove tuberculosis could be cured and prevented, that people need not die in such great numbers and suffer as hopelessly as they did prior to the educational work which it has done."

The letter also states that the tuberculosis death rate was 107.8 to every 100,000 population in Wisconsin in 1919 and that largely through the work of the association this has been reduced to 82.5 per cent, or a saving of over 3,000 lives. Wisconsin has the fifth lowest death rate from tuberculosis in the entire registration area of the United States.

It is pointed out that it is not the object of the association to spend the money it receives in taking care of tuberculosis patients in hospital or other institutions. Its work is of an educational and preventative nature only.

The letter concludes: "Anything you do in the nature of a contribution, purchasing national tuberculosis seals, which are the sole support of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis, or even putting in a good word for the work of the association wherever opportunity offers, you may rest assured you will not regret."

GREENVILLE TO HAVE SEWER SYSTEM SOON

Work has been started on the new municipal sewer for the village of Greenville. A trenching machine has been put into action and is making rapid progress. The sewer conduit will be about a quarter of a mile long, supplying most of the residences and business places. Fourteen residents are contributing $100 each toward the project and the balance is to be paid by the town.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS ASK FOR CO-OPERATION

Patrons on the rural mail routes are asked to cooperate with the carriers during the holiday rush. The carriers say they can be helped if patrons keep watch of their arrival, and be ready to meet the automobile to receive packages or other large mail that the mail boxes will not accommodate. This will save time and afford patrons much earlier delivery service all along the route.

NO DECREASE IN AUTO TRAFFIC ON LAKE STREET

Automobile traffic on Lake street has let up very little with the approach of winter, according to Peter Miller, flagman at the railroad crossing, who says that he counted 102 automobiles Sunday afternoon between 2:40 o'clock and 4 o'clock. This was at the rate of 306 an hour. The highest number he ever counted during any one hour last summer was 394. Out of the number he counted last Sunday, there were only two or three foreign cars.

NOTE OF OPTIMISM IN EASTERN BOND ISSUE

All is not depression in the east, if a telegram received by the Citizens National bank is any indication. The message announces a bond issue of $12,500,000 which an eastern chemical concern has launched, for the purpose of developing its business on a large scale. Bankers regard any proposition of that kind as something that lends encouragement in the face of a supposed depressing period.

SLOAN'S GOES RIGHT TO THE ACHING SPOT

THOUSANDS of men and women, when the least little rheumatic "crick" assails them, have Sloan's Liniment handy to knock it out. Popular over a third of a century ago—far more popular today.

That's because it is so wonderfully helpful in relieving external aches and pains—sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia, overstrained muscles, stiff joints, weather exposure results. DEDICATES LIFE TO LABOR'S CAUSE

Matthew Woll Regarded as One of Most Influential Men in Labor Ranks.

Organized labor will have its inning here on Tuesday evening with the appearance at Lawrence Memorial chapel of Matthew Woll, international labor leader, who presents the story of the American Federation of Labor, and its place in the present day program.

Mr. Woll is the first lecturer to appear in Appleton under the auspices of the Appleton Community Lecture and Artist series. His address starts promptly at 8:20 o'clock.

The distinguished labor official has been one of the constant helpers of the government both before and after the war, and is now assisting the bureau of war risk insurance. He has not neglected his labor duties while performing these tasks.

Photo-engravers have made rapid strides in perfecting their organization through his persistence for their welfare. As editor of the "Photo-Engraver," he has been able to put across many propositions of a national character. Many defects in the labor policies followed by irresponsible members have been pointed out by Woll in his work as editor of the American Federationist. He has also used his influence against self-appointed regulators of the organized labor movement.

Delegate to England. The speaker has also proved an acceptable candidate as fraternal delegate to the British Trade Union congress in 1916. Ingrained with the policy that has made the American Federation of Labor so great, he was more determined than ever upon his return to support its fundamental principles.

During the war he was a bitter enemy of the pacifists and all who would hamper the government in prosecuting the crusade for world freedom. His editorials have been widely copied. It is his influential publication work that has made him so well known that every moment of his time that he can spare away from his special duties is occupied in conferences and speech making to widen the influence of the trade union movement.

Woll is still a young man, has studied law and is equipping himself to rise higher in the labor realm because his life is dedicated to this cause.

Admission tickets for his lecture are on sale at the Y. M. C. A.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST APPENDICITIS ATTACK

Appendicitis is an intestinal infection often due to old, retained waste matter. Even though bowels move daily, poisons may accumulate in the system for months. The intestinal antiseptic, Adlerka, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out matter which might start an appendicitis infection. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach and chronic constipation. Adlerka brings out matter which you never thought was in your system.—F. G. Walker, druggist.

SEEK CO-OPERATION OF CIVIC BODIES

Contemplate Action to Prevent Duplication of Effort in County.

The problem of bringing community organizations together under some plan of co-operation will probably be acted upon at the meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening in the Venetian room of the Sherman house.

The idea originated from the community survey taken here last summer under the direction of the Outagamie Red Cross chapter, in which it was found that there was a possibility of some organizations overlapping in their activities, or working at cross purposes. A meeting of representatives of Appleton social, civic and fraternal associations was called, and it was decided to let the chamber of commerce take the initiative instead of creating a new civic executive body.

A plan will no doubt be evolved from the discussion in which each civic body will "lay its cards on the table," so that no two will unwittingly pursue the same line of community work where only one should be in the field.

The directors will also consider what method the chamber will use to present the national referendum on the street railway situation to its members.

There will also be a report from the community welfare committee on its progress in the matter of city planning.

Organize Glee Clubs.

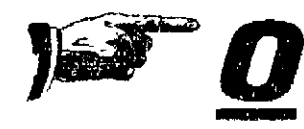

The Lawrence college glee clubs will be reorganized this week. Try-outs will be scheduled very shortly. Miss Gertrude Graves will direct the girls' club, while Carl J. Waterman will again have charge of the men's organization.

VEHICLE CARS CAN BE USED FOR ANY PURPOSE

Automobile cars can now be used for box car service, according to a message which W. B. Basing, local station agent of the Northwestern Railway company, received from the main office of his company Monday afternoon.

For the last two or three years these particular cars were in the automobile service exclusively and were always returned to automobile headquarters as soon as unloaded.

Under the new ruling which went into effect Monday they can now be put to the same use as ordinary box cars.

FRANCE AND ARMENIA
France's sudden solicitude for the Armenians is suspicious. The eloquent Rene Viviani may have something up his sleeve. His efforts to pledge the League of Nations to search the world for a country willing to save Armenia are the result of too rapid a conversion. Never before has France been alarmed for the security of the Armenians. France has been content to let Armenians and Turks fight their own battles.

But, of late, the soviet troops in the Caucasus have crossed from Russian Armenia into Turkish Armenia. Propaganda to convert the Armenians to Bolshevism is on the increase. A recent Bolshevik congress in the Caucasus pledged universal brotherhood to Christian Armenians and followers of Oriental creeds alike.

France's alarm for the safety of Armenians undoubtedly is the result of the Bolsheviks' entrance upon the scene. France pretends in one sentence that she desires to save Armenia from Turkish massacres, and in the next sentence suggests the great powers negotiate with the Turkish rebel hordes in Armenia as with a sovereign government.

France's invitation to Armenia has the appearance of a skillfully concealed plan to involve the United States in armed conflict with the soviet forces of the Caucasus. France's policy of fighting the Bolsheviks from without Russia has proven a dismal failure. France's Russian policy is as bankrupt as Russia herself.

But, if France can persuade America to send an army to Armenia, France knows the American troops eventually will have to face Russian troops. Once that happens France believes the logic of events may range America on France's side in active opposition to Russia. If that is her purpose, France is wasting her time. French diplomacy will not involve the United States in any such undertaking.

A CALL FOR MR. ROOT
The political gossips are making cabinets for Mr. Harding pretty rapidly these days and taking them down again over night, but a significant thing is that most of them agree that Elihu Root will not be secretary of state and that the choice lies between Knox and Lodge. Harding, the insiders hint, has a temperamental aversion to Root. But in his speech accepting the Republican nomination Senator Harding said:

Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice president, second official of the republic, shall be asked to participate.

If Harding believes in a cabinet of highest capacity, if he wants counselors rather than mere heads of departments about him, he cannot draw up a cabinet list that will ignore Elihu Root.

There are many who regard Root as the foremost man in public life in the United States today; the man best fitted to help solve the many complicated problems that await the next administration. Certainly in the regard and respect of Europe he, since the collapse of Mr. Wilson, stands higher than any other American and it is probable that every eight out of ten members of the Republican party if asked their choice as the president's chief adviser and director of our diplomacy would name Elihu Root.

Lincoln may have had his temperamental aversions, too, but as in the case of Stanton and others he unhesitatingly picked the men best fitted for the job. Unless the burdens of age press too heavily upon him to permit of active service the American public will be seriously disappointed if Root is not included when Mr. Harding makes his cabinet selections.

THE FARMER'S PROBLEM
Holding movements and reduced acreage proposals on the part of farmers have reached the stage where serious developments may follow. Cotton growers are holding their bales for increased prices and cotton interests are advocating an acreage reduction next year ranging from one-third to one-half. Many wheat growers are holding their wheat for a higher price and talking of decreased production next year. The same is true of corn and other staples. The nation as a whole welcomed a fall in prices. But, unfortunately, prices to the farmer fell far more than they have to the consumer. Crops made under the most expensive conditions suddenly declined below the production cost. As in many former years, the big drop came just in time to catch the grower at the marketing season.

There has long been speculation about what would happen if the farmer ever struck. He never has and probably never will. But such movements as the present campaign for crop holding and crop reduction may reach the stage where some of the effects of a farm strike will result.

There is enough money in the marketing of raw materials to pay the farmer his expenses and a fair profit for his investment and labor. But too much of this money is taken out as tolls on the long road from the farmer to the consumer. The real producer doesn't get it.

Legislation cannot control prices. But government agencies can help solve the problem of bringing the farmer more closely in touch with the market, and the market more closely in touch with the ultimate consumer. The work is a large one and will take time, and the need for beginning it is very great.

CHRISTMAS SEALS
The dread white plague destroys 150,000 human lives every year in the United States. Tuberculosis spreads its darkening clouds over millions of people in this country alone. Many of these lives are made hopeless by the presence of poverty, for tuberculosis strikes hardest and most frequently in the homes of the poor. Their hopelessness, too often, is due to their helplessness.

In every community there are many victims of the disease in need of home care and instruction as to how they can cure themselves and protect others.

The organized fight against tuberculosis needs your aid. Will you help fight the white plague? It has been made very easy for you to aid in the battle.

The least you can do is to invest in Christmas seals, the money going to the public health nursing service, for the work of free dispensaries, and open air schools. Your money will go to aid human beings, who, more than any other, need aid.

Put a Christmas Seal on every letter, on every package. It is your Christmas gift to the victims of tuberculosis.

EDMUND VANCE COOKE

HI HICKS, THE WEATHER BOOSTER
Hiram Hicks was a booster, who boasted his town; He boasted it up and boasted it down. His lungs and his conscience were tougher than leather And therefore he oftentimes boasted its weather, And whenever the climate proved somewhat remiss, He would croon, "Why, we never have weather like this!"

When the mercury shivered and froze in the bowl, When it leaped in the glass like a suffering soul, When a drouth drove the molecules out of one's blood, When the rains were the heaviest known since the Flood, Still Hiram would gurgle in accents of bliss, "Some mistake! Why we never have weather like this!"

The obvious sequel is clearer than water. He departed this life to a world that is hotter. The devil deceived him with ardent embraces And set him at once in the warmest of places. And remarked as his hide was beginning to hiss, "Why, we never have weather as frosty as this!"

BUT IT WAS GOOD MONEY FOR A THAT
Paris.—Talk about filthy lucre! A microscope at the Pasteur Institute here discovered a mere trifle of 80,000,000 disease germs on a one-franc bank note. Among the little fellows were the bacilli which cause tuberculosis, beriberi, lockjaw and several hundreds others. The temperature of a man's pocket is just about right for bacteria, it is said. Of course, the professor explains, there might be a lot more than 80 million on the note. That was all he had time to count.

MALARIA AND TUBERCULOSIS
The other day I referred to the waywardness of tuberculosis of the lungs in respect to the mode of onset of this common disease, and mentioned frequent modes of onset which might not arouse the suspicion of the untrained observer, as, for instance, onset with obstinate so-called "dyspepsia" in frail, poorly developed young persons who are anemic. In certain regions of the country where malaria (fever and ague) really does prevail at present or has prevailed in the past, an error frequently made by the laity and perhaps still made occasionally by some careless doctor, is the confusion of beginning tuberculosis of the lungs with malaria.

Malaria, as everyone now knows or should know, is caused by inoculation of the victim, and only by inoculation. The inoculating agent is one breed of mosquito called Anopheles. This night-flying pest differs from the common harmless mosquito of this country in sitting almost at right angles upon a surface, whereas the ordinary harmless mosquito sits with body parallel with the surface. The malaria-carrying mosquito becomes infected with the malaria parasite by drinking the blood of a person who has malaria and conveys the parasites to the blood of the person subsequently bitten.

Without being bitten by a mosquito of this breed which has had previous access to an individual with malaria, it is impossible for one to contract malaria. Therefore, all ancient theories and fancies concerning damp or swampy ground, fresh turned earth, and the like, must be discarded, except in so far as even a crowfoot or a tomato can or an obstructed cave trough filled with water for ten days at a time may furnish the necessary stagnant pool for breeding mosquitoes.

The characteristic sequence of symptoms from which malaria receives its common name of "fever and ague," namely, chill followed by fever and sweating, may occur in other conditions than malaria. Chill, fever and sweat often signify the development of an abscess somewhere in the body. Sometimes chill, fever and sweat occur in acute septicaemia ("blood poisoning") in cases of accidental wounds infected at the time of accident or through improper care after the accident. In the past, and in unenlightened communities even at present, the occurrence of chill, followed by high fever and sweat in the days following childbirth has too often been misinterpreted as "malaria."

In certain cases of beginning or incipient lung tuberculosis the patient suffers repeated and sometimes regularly recurring attacks of chill, fever and sweating. If this happens in a district where the ordinary malaria or fever and ague is prevalent, there is danger of confounding the tuberculosis with that disease. This danger is entirely obviated if the physician is careful enough to examine the naked chest.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Mr. Barnum Said It
.....I have had my rupture about nine years, though I guess there was a muscular defect since I was born.I lately received a sample of a rupture treatment, a kind of ointment to be rubbed in. It is said to strengthen the muscles.
ANSWER—It would be as reasonable to attempt to cure a broken leg with the ointment as to attempt to relieve a rupture. Plainly some shrewd charlatan has your number. Of course there is no cure for rupture in an adult except operation. Rarely a small hernia, however, as it is usually called, spontaneously and permanently corrects itself. But it is childish to imagine that any medicine can be of any such avail.

Liquid Petroleum
Please tell me the nature of "albolene." The doctor advised me to drop it into the nostrils of my baby when he has a cold. I am troubled with dry skin, and I found that this "albolene" is good to rub on. (Mrs. R. F.)
ANSWER—It is purified mineral oil, liquid petroleum, paraffin oil, Russian oil, also known by dozens of trade names. It is bland, neutral, non-irritating. Nothing when used as your doctor advised. A good agent for dry skin or dry scalp.

Can College Be Civilized?
By Frederic J. Haskin.

Washington, D. C.—The annual war between the faculties of our institutions of higher learning and the students thereof is in full swing. At Annapolis a change of superintendents has taken place, partly as the result of hazing scandals, it is said. In a southern university, some students have withdrawn in a body because the faculty backed by state law has interfered with their secret societies. And in many other institutions the efforts of the faculty to interfere with student activities, such as hazing freshmen, forming secret organizations, and making merry in general have resulted in a state of more or less strain.

On the whole, the professors seem to be losing out. They used to inveigh against dances and against athletics, but now the social and athletic life of most colleges goes on without any reproach from the faculties. The authorities have capitulated partly because they had to do so, and partly because they found that athletics, especially, were an excellent advertisement and thereby a help in getting more students and in building up the colleges. Fraternities now flourish in most colleges without restraint, and the ancient and honorable practice of hazing, although it is always the subject of criticism and punishment, is by no means extinct.

The professors are really bound to lose out in the long run, because the students will not attend a college where the most exciting and interesting of activities are curtailed. The average college president wants to make his institution an austere and dignified stronghold of scholarship, but he also wants to get as many students as possible. The competition for students is keen, and the students insist on going where they can have a good time. Hence the president and his faculty members find themselves between the devil of student barbarism and the deep blue sea of oblivion, and the betting is generally on the devil.

Professors and Students Differ
To a man who spent four years in two colleges visited various others, and belonged to both a national and local fraternity, it looks as though this lamentable conflict between the professors and the students is due to fundamental difference of viewpoint.

A college or university is theoretically a place of study. The student is supposed to come there because he wants to study. He is released from the close restrictions of grammar school education because he is supposed to be mature enough not to use his freedom in a way that will interfere with the pursuit of knowledge.

That is the theory upon which the professors act, and upon which some of the students act—especially those who are getting through college with difficulty and studying some special or technical line by which they expect to make their livings. It is decidedly not the way the majority of undergraduates look at the matter. They go to college for a good time. They regard it as an escape from parental supervision, and a chance to spend a little of Dad's money without his direct advice or assistance. In a word, the average undergraduate regards college as an opportunity to assert his individuality, which is essentially a barbaric individuality.

It Has Been Stated Many Times that each individual in the course of his development repeats all the stages through which the race has passed. Probably the idea has been overworked, but it is certainly suggestive. Thus boys under 16 are undoubtedly savages in many ways. They hand loosely together like savages; they go adventuring like savages; and they often show savage cruelty both to each other and to animals.

This has often been pointed out. What has not been so generally recognized is the fact that the boy of 15 or 16 has merely advanced from savagery to the next stage of development, which is barbarism. A typical American university, which is dominated

You ought to own a Velour!

Velour hats originated in Australia—where they raise Kangaroos.

They—and we mean the hats—jumped over to America some 18 years ago when flour was selling at $3.00 a barrel—Velour hats were selling at $20. each to the men who lived in the brown stone fronts.

But the idea was too full of merit to confine to the heads of the "Astorville"—so American manufacturers got to work—imported the bodies—and now with what way up—it is possible to buy a genuine Velour at $12.—and wear it three seasons—easily.

Black—Brown—Russet—Green and Smoke are the shades available—and the blocks are of new mid-winter turning.

You ought to own a Velour—YOU WILL—if you try on one of ours.

Instead of guessing at the amount of shortening for cake because it's such a bother to measure lard or butter in a cup, try this way and be accurate.

Suppose the rule is $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter. Fill the measuring cup half full with cold water. Add butter until the cup is full. When the water reaches the top of the cup it means there is $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter measured. Drain off the water and the butter is ready to be creamed for the cake.

If $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter is required fill the cup $\frac{3}{4}$ full of water.

Many Contributions Are Made Here to Help Suffering German Children.

A report of the progress made by Outagamie county in the campaign to raise funds for relief of suffering children in Germany is expected tomorrow from A. H. Krugmeier, county chairman. Advance reports indicated that a large sum of money was raised here for that purpose. Practically the entire county was organized, with soliciting committees in every community.

Churches, societies and individuals assisted in making the campaign a success. Speakers were sent into several communities to describe conditions in Germany and to arouse the sympathy of Outagamie county people for children whose lives have been made miserable by the World war, for which they were in no way responsible.

About $750,000 is to be raised in the state, it was said. Among the national leaders in the movement is Herbert Hoover, former food dictator and head of foreign relief during the war. He knows conditions in Europe and has made several earnest pleas for the assistance of Americans.

Annual "Potato Week" Is Expected to Attract Thousands of Farmers.

Stevens Point—This city is preparing to entertain thousands of Portage county farmers during the first annual county "potato week." Dec. 12 to 18. It promises to be the biggest undertaking ever put across in the interests of rural residents living near Stevens Point. Growers from every section of the county have been invited not only to attend, but to enter their produce in a big county exhibit. The county board has given official recognition of the plan in a proclamation calling attention to the week's program.

Portage county raises more acres of potatoes and produces more bushels of potatoes than any other county in Wisconsin and the principal purpose

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, backaches, headaches and dizzy spells. Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-round tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

All druggists. Liquid or tablets. YPSILANTI, MICH.—"Motherhood left me with a bad case of feminine trouble. The doctor did not seem to help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it gave me relief at once. I took just a few bottles and was completely cured. I have wonderful faith in Dr. Pierce's medicine for women."—MRS. LUTHER JONES, 514 S. Hamilton Street.

of the seven day attraction is to forcibly call attention to the importance of this crop and to encourage the production of better tubers at a smaller cost.

The week will be devoted to potatoes in an intensive way. In addition to lectures and displays on potatoes, machinery and the various by-products of the crop, prizes for excellence of standard varieties and prizes for best essays to rural school children, hotel and restaurant owners will be asked to serve special potato courses in order to draw attention to the subject.

Thursday of potato week will be featured by a double attraction and will be an especially important day for Portage county farmers. A livestock sale will be put on by the county livestock board and twenty-five head of pure bred registered Guernsey, Jersey and Holstein bulls, besides a number of grade heifers and cows consigned regardless of prices bid.

County Agent W. W. Clark is preparing the week's program.

RATE COMMISSION GIVES 7 RULINGS

Smaller Utilities of the State Are Affected by Decisions Read Today.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—The Railroad Commission today handed down a number of decisions on rates, etc., of some of the smaller utilities of the state.

On petition of Dillon & Kronsche, who erected the municipal heating plant for Waterloo under a contract that they are to have the receipts for 12 years, new rates were authorized as follows: live steam $1.20 gross per 1,000 pounds of condensation, subject to 10 cents discount for prompt payment; low pressure steam, 80 cents gross and 75 cents net per 1,000 pounds for condensation.

An increase of 33 1/3 per cent in heating rates for the municipal heating plant at Hartford was ordered temporarily on account of the high price of coal, although the Commission determined that increase would not raise the full amount required.

On complaint of C. J. Lawton and A. A. Lesing, the Commission ordered the LaFarge Electric Co., to restore the old relief on its property between the dam and mill and to operate the dam so that the water in the pond will not exceed an elevation of 91 feet at the LaFarge-Rockton bridge.

The McGowan Water & Light Co. was ordered to extend its lines for service to Harry J. Mullen when the latter deposits $50 to cover the actual cost of such extension in excess of one pole and one span.

The village of Norwalk was authorized to increase its electric rates from 15 to 18 cents per kilowatt hour.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway company was ordered to construct, connect, maintain and operate a reasonably adequate and suitable spur track for the service of the Pulaski Woodmen's Light & Power company in the village of Pulaski.

The Pacific & Wycocena Telephone company was authorized to charge $14 per year for single party lines in Wycocena with $12 for party lines, the company to maintain all instruments and maintenance costs.

NEW LONDON COUPLE MARRIED 50 YEARS

Dr. and Mrs. Schneider Observe Anniversary—Basketball Team Wins.

(Special to Post-Crescent) New London—Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Schneider of Cook street celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary this week. Among the festivities in honor of the occasion was a gold wedding ring, which was enjoyed by about thirty-five relatives, and a house party consisting of Harry Bentz of Milton Junction, William Dittmer of Oconomowoc, the Rev. Mr. Henzel and family of Shiocton, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Shoemaker and Miss Crystal Shoemaker of Lawrence college. Members of the Lutheran church also held an anniversary service, in which the marriage vows were renewed.

Mrs. Schneider was gowned in brown crepe de chine, embroidered in gold, with a small gold wreath on her head. Her grandson, Warren Shoemaker, preceded the couple to the altar, carrying a gold basket of yellow chrysanthemums. The Rev. A. Spiering gave a golden anniversary address. After the ceremony a reception was held in the dining hall and school house, attended by hundreds of friends.

Sons were born this week to Mr. and Mrs. W. Steinknecht and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gorges.

The hearts of many graduates of New London high school were saddened when it was learned that Lyman Bates, class of 1910, had been accidentally shot in the northern woods while deer hunting. Mr. Bates leaves a wife and two little girls, a brother, Roy Bates of Shiocton, and a sister, Mrs. Ralph Williams. The funeral took place on Thursday and the body was taken to Shiocton for interment in the family lot. The Rev. Mr. Ziegler of the Congregational church was in charge.

Ernest Spietter, a brother of Mrs. Grady of this city, and a relative of Mrs. Guy Siegel of the Specht family, was killed in the town of St. Lawrence. He fell against his gun while hunting. Several shots entered his head and he died instantly. He was 19 years of age, and leaves his mother, several brothers and sisters.

The second game will be played with the Wisconsin Indians at Lac du Flambeau. Friday, December 10, has been selected as a date for the game with the Appleton ideals.

NO INCREASE IN LIGHT RATES IN FOND DU LAC

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—In dismissing the application of the Eastern Wisconsin Electric Co., for authority to increase electric rates in the city of Fond du Lac, the Railroad Commission in a decision handed down today, found that using the figures submitted by the company it has an annual return of 8.4 per cent on the electric department.

"We are certain that the business at least as far as this particular department is concerned has been and still is prosperous," says the decision. "The city through its engineer has arrived at the same conclusion. It is therefore ordered that the application of the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company for an increase in its rates for electric energy in the city of Fond du Lac is hereby dismissed."

The application for the increase was filed by the company June 15, 1920, in connection with applications for increased rates in gas and street railway, both of which have been decided.

MANY ACTIVITIES SCHEDULED AT 'Y'

Association Leads in Membership and Has Many Community Activities.

The Appleton Y. M. C. A. leads the state in the number of members, with the exception of Milwaukee, as a result of its recent membership race. It has become one of the most active associations of Wisconsin, not only as a Y. M. C. A., but as a community center. The week's program indicates this.

Monday evening a supper was held for the county school workers. The

PRICE REBATING IS BECOMING POPULAR

National Chamber of Commerce Bulletin Describes New Trade Practice.

The newly established fabricated production department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is already at work on the problems of merchandising and distribution, according to reports received by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, which is a member of the national body and enjoys the services of this department.

The department's latest bulletin contains a comprehensive discussion of the trade practice known as "guarantee against price decline," compiled from a hearing before the federal trade commission. A copy of the bulletin is kept on file at the local office for the use of members.

This trade practice provides that when a manufacturer disposes of a commodity at a stated price and obligates himself, in the event of a decline in price, to rebate to the purchaser at some future settlement date agreed upon the difference between the stated price at the date of sale and the reduced price at which the purchaser may be obliged to resell, between the date of sale and the date of settlement.

This trade custom is used in a wide variety of forms which have made it so extreme as to attract criticism. Some of these are: Guarantee against decline until date of shipment, until date of delivery, until a fixed date, until the goods are sold, or against decline of the vendor's price or the decline of a market price.

Makes Business Good

Many manufacturers favor the practice because it assures them of orders, makes production problems easier, effects economies in buying and production and in other ways, and prevents the prevailing practice of cancelling orders in a falling market. It is said to generally stabilize market prices.

Wholesalers and retailers like the practice because it simplifies the problem of keeping up stock, enables buying in larger quantities, and shifts the responsibility for fixing prices upon the manufacturer, because he is better posted in the prices of raw materials.

May Keep Prices Up

There is opposition on the other hand, because it is considered an unsound and unfair business practice which will tempt manufacturers in each line to exert their entire influence to keep prices up. It will do away with the equitable rule of requiring each trade agency to carry its own burden of liability. It is also said to encourage speculation and overproduction, creating illusions as to the volume of business.

Just what influence the guarantee of prices has had on the recent flood of cancelled orders was not determined at the hearing before the federal trade commission, but there is widespread interest in knowing just what the effect may be on business in any line where regular trade practices are departed from to meet possible emergencies and which, when business again becomes normal, by custom may be continued.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONFERENCE

Appleton Boys Delighted With Big Meeting in Madison Last Week.

Delegates from Appleton who attended the Older Boys' Conference at Madison returned Monday afternoon. They reported the conference was the biggest of its kind ever held in the state. There were 779 boys present.

The Appleton Boys' Orchestra, under the direction of J. R. Gibson, furnished music for the conference. This feature was wholly unexpected, and was liked by all the delegates.

John Showalter, former Appleton boy, who is now attending Syracuse University, was presiding officer.

Among the speakers was Dr. John Timothy Stone of Chicago, who is known widely for his wonderful speaking ability. His subject was "Ten Years Hence."

Meetings were held in First Congregational church, University Y. M. C. A., city Y. M. C. A. and the state capitol.

Photographs were taken of the delegation immediately after the close of Saturday morning's session. The pictures were displayed the same afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. and were admired by delegates who wished to buy them before the conference closed.

INVITE ALL MEN TO STUDY BIBLE

Bible Study Classes Begin at Y. M. C. A. Tonight—Outline Courses.

Men of Appleton are invited to get the benefit of Bible study work by getting into one of the classes which meet every Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Classes tonight will follow a $20 o'clock supper. Men who would attend the classes after supper, may come not later than 7:15.

All men, whether members of the association or not, are invited to take up the work. The meeting adjourns at eight o'clock so that in case men have another engagement, they will have plenty of time for it.

The instructors are all men from Lawrence college, and they are hopeful of getting large classes to carry on Bible study work.

Following is a statement from each of the men as to the nature of the course they will undertake:

Prof. C. A. Conrad, who will teach "Old Testament Teachings." "The plan of this course is to study the most important positions of Hebrew history and to show the relation between that history and the religious and social ideals which it produced. The important leaders of Israel will be taken up and the value of their ideas and methods will be discussed."

Prof. C. C. Cast, "Bible Facts and History." "The Bible is not merely a book of religion, but the national literature of the Hebrew people. It consists of various types of literature, written during a period of about 1,000 years, under various social, economic and political conditions, by authors from fishermen and shepherds to scholars and kings. We intend to study a number of representative books, considering, in each case among other things the author, date, sources, background, literary qualities and message."

Prof. H. C. Cooley, "New Testament Teachings." "The course begins tonight with a sketch of Palestine, and the social and political conditions at the time of Jesus. The gospel of Mark will be used as the basis for the course. Only the leading incidents can be studied."

PLAN SCOUT TROOP AMONG CARRIERS

Post-Crescent Newsboys Hold Meeting to Discuss Plans for Organization.

Preliminary steps were taken to organize a boy scout troop among the Post-Crescent carrier boys at a meeting of the newsboys Monday evening in the council chamber of the city hall. Another meeting is to take place in the near future at which the organization will be completed.

About 30 carrier boys and substitutes attended and were given an explanation of scout membership, together with a demonstration of scout work. H. L. Davis, business manager of the Post-Crescent, explained the purpose of the meeting. Gustave Keller followed with a talk on the value of scouting to a boy, especially in its influence on his later life.

Joseph Horner, circulation manager of the paper, told the boys in detail of the Post-Crescent's plan. He stated that it was the aim of the paper to secure the best possible carrier service, and that every carrier who became a boy scout and obeyed his scout oath would be faithful in service. He outlined a plan proposed by the Post-Crescent, by which the boys can obtain their uniforms practically without cost to them.

E. R. Henderson, scout executive, told the boys what the scouts are doing in Appleton, what the scout council's future plans are, and what facilities were offered to make scouting practical and interesting.

Actual scout work was shown by the members of troop No. 4, under Max Taylor, in a special demonstration for the benefit of the newsboys. Application blanks were given out with instructions that they be approved by parents and left at the Post-Crescent office.

APPLETON CAGERS LOSE TWO GAMES

Valley Lutheran Basketball Series Opened Monday—Fond du Lac Here.

Both Appleton Lutheran basketball teams were defeated in the opening games of the Fox River valley winter Lutheran tournament. Mount Olive team, playing Fond du Lac at Bushey gymnasium, was defeated by a score of 16 to 11. St. Paul church five met defeat at the hands of the Neenah cagers by a score of 15 to 30.

About 25 Fond du Lac rooters accompanied the team here for the Mount Olive game. The Fondy five kept the lead most of the time, but found their victory strongly contested by the Appleton team. Burnmeister made the most baskets for the locals, but all the men were putting up a stiff fight. The lineup included Froehke, center; Burnmeister and Lueckel, forwards; Boettcher, Norton and Doerflinger, guards.

About 30 Appleton young people accompanied the St. Paul cagers to Neenah, for the game at the Presbyterian gymnasium. Voecks starred for Appleton and Gerhart for Neenah. Falk also played a good game at guard. The St. Paul lineup included Voecks, cost of maintenance, administration and other items were not considered, it was said. No suggestion was offered for raising this additional revenue. That is to be worked out after the commission announces its awards.

TRACTION COMPANY IS LOSING MONEY

This department also has been operating at a loss for the last two months, although it shows a new operating revenue of $33,750.26 for the ten months ended October 31. If the revenue average for the remaining two months of the year is estimated the total will represent a return of 3.48 per cent on the investment, it was said.

Invested capital of the railway department includes the right of way, rails, bridges and a proportionate share of the power plant.

The total cost of operating the department for the ten months period was $171,302.49. Biggest items in the cost are traffic and transportation, $47,325.80; $17,567.40; depreciation, $30,757.91; taxes, $20,505.28.

The total operating revenue of the department for the period was given as $205,052.75, of which $203,834.61 represents passenger revenues.

Beggs Reviews History

John I. Beggs, head of the company, reviewed the history of the situation here for the benefit of the commission and also of plans for the future. The company has extended its electric lines very greatly in the last year and is now serving a large portion of the Fox river valley and adjacent territory. He also discussed the gas situation, saying that improvements are contemplated in the plant which will result in much better service. These improvements have been impossible at the present rate of revenue, it was said.

The commission was told that in the 22 years of the company's existence, only four dividends were paid. These were five per cent dividends in 1914, 1915, 1916 and 1917, aggregating a total return of $140,000 to the stockholders. All the other profits have been turned back to the company in the shape of new equipment. The physical value of the plant has increased $2,220,000 since 1912, it was explained. The total invested capital is now approximately $4,490,000.

ALLEGED THIEF IS GIVEN FOUR YEARS

Man Accused of Confidence Game Sentenced for Having Burglar Tools.

Madison—James Thomas, alleged burglar, pleaded guilty to having burglar tools in his possession and was sentenced to four years at Waupun by Superior Judge A. C. Hoppmann, late Saturday.

Thomas was arrested at the Hub clothing store by Detective Jesse Smith, while alleged to be operating a confidence game. Investigation disclosed burglar tools and he was held on the latter charge.

Walter Larry, alleged to have been an accomplice of Thomas, was freed on Saturday. Frank Borhorst, said to be another companion of Thomas, is held in the county jail. Thomas will be taken to Waupun on Monday.

According to Detective Jesse Smith, Thomas combined burglary and a confidence game. He would order several hundred dollars worth of goods from a store, have it shipped collect to a small town by express and then break into the express office and get away with the goods.

Thomas was in the Hub clothing store ordering goods and had a quantity of clothing piled up on the counter in front of him when arrested by Detective Smith.

FARMERS TO STUDY NEW CHEESE PLAN

Lincoln County Producers Fear Harm in Plymouth Co-operative System.

Merrill—A fight appears imminent in Lincoln county between the promoters of the plan to turn the channel of the county's cheese output from the local warehouses now handling that product to the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation of Plymouth, which claims to be a farmers' co-operative organization.

County Agent A. H. Cole has been besieged with inquiries from farmers for enlightenment and appeals from the local warehouse managers for assistance in their behalf, claiming that the erection of a warehouse for the federation in Lincoln county would injure their business and also work to the injury of the farmer.

Defends Organization

Paul Schweinburg, who is organizing the farmers into the federation here, hopes to defend the federation against onslaughts made against it, and expects to hold an open mass-meeting of farmers of Lincoln county at which Mr. Nordman, state director of markets, and Mr. Krumrey, president of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation will be asked to explain the benefits of the federation to the farmer.

County Agent A. H. Cole claims it folly for any stock judge to attempt to judge the individual members of a township herd by any external observations. Milk and butter fat records can be the only method for judging a cow against one producing 25,000 pounds, or a cow producing 700 pounds of butter fat as against one producing 1,000 pounds.

"Never in the history of dairying," said County Field Agent A. H. Cole, "as far as I know it, have cattle dropped off in milk and butter fat production like they did during October and November. The cattle have not gone on a strike, but a fast."

"Farmers were too busy and attempted to pasture their cattle in September and October and owing to the lack of sufficient herbage and the drouth, the cattle starved."

JUDGE VINDICATED BUT LOSES SALARY

Judge Becker May Attempt to Gain Lost Pay Through the Courts.

Madison, Wis.—No salary can be paid to J. M. Becker of Monroe, who was out of office as the result of a conviction in the United States court under the espionage act, which conviction was later reversed by the United States Court of Appeals.

Becker, following the reversal of his case, filed a claim for his salary as county judge and the matter was referred to the attorney general's department, which in an opinion held against the claim.

Becker was convicted on August 7, 1918, and on August 30, 1918, it was held that such a conviction vacated the office. Gov. Philipp immediately made an appointment to the vacancy and since that a man has been elected to the office for a six year term. About six weeks ago the conviction of Judge Becker was reversed. He may make a test in the courts.

"The statute at the time of claimant's conviction contained no provision for restoring to office or payment of the emoluments of office to an individual convicted, and whose sentence was reversed upon appeal. When claimant was convicted of the offense, he automatically lost all right to office, and to the compensation provided for the discharge of its functions," the opinion says.

In an opinion to the district attorney at Fond du Lac it has been ruled that where a widow is obtaining benefits under the police and fire pension fund she can not avail herself of the provisions of the mother's pension act. In other words the department holds that a police and fire pension fund is a public fund and the mother's pension law provides that only can be granted from the latter fund in case no aid is given from any other public fund.

In another opinion the department has held that the expense of printing the maps for distribution among the members of the legislature is chargeable to the appropriation to the state railroad commission and not to the appropriation of the highway commission.

"ANTI-OLEO" FIGHT IS STARTED BY DAIRYMEN

Janesville—Rock county farmers will attempt to boycott the use of butter substitutions as being means of aiding the dairy business of this district.

Through members of the farm bureau the "anti-oleo" fight will be started on Monday when there is a farmers' meeting called in Johnston Center. W. H. Gilbertson, United States department of Agriculture, is here and will attend the meeting.

Action is expected to be taken through the Rock county farm bureau over the county board of supervisors for dispensing with the office of the county agent next year. They refused to pass an allowance for the office after June 30, 1921. Farmers are protesting that the county agent here, R. T. Glasco, has "too much university bunk" and not aid enough for the ordinary farmer.

Joseph Wittmar returned to Marquette university Monday after a several days' visit with Appleton relatives.

Gracious Hands

One never pictures the hands that hover over the tea table and graciously pour tea as being red and work-roughened! Yet with housework and dishwashing to be done, keeping one's hands smooth and white is a problem—unless one uses Delicine.

Delicine is a healing, curative hand lotion that softens the hands, and keeps them cool and white. It cures the curative antiseptic properties to the physician who first made it for use in his laboratory. It has a clean fragrance.

SISLER IS IN LINE TO MANAGE BROWNS

College Phenom May Take Burke's Place as Leader of St. Louis.

New York.—Within the last three weeks Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, has received numerous offers from several major league clubs to purchase him to name a purchase price on George Sisler, his sterling first baseman and leading batsman in the American league during the last season. The St. Louis owners reply was that the captain of the Browns was not on the market. Later it was divulged that the reason the former Michigan university star was in such great demand by other American league clubs was that they were desirous of obtaining his services to act as playing manager. Undoubtedly Ball has had the same idea of some day starring Sisler in the same playing manager role that Tris Speaker acquitted himself so well in during the season of 1920, winning a world's championship. But he thought the time was not just at hand to make Sisler the leader.

However, the offers and requests of late have acted as an incentive to the St. Louis owner and set him to figuring that if so many of the contemporary clubs in the American league are anxious to having Sisler as their manager, there is no reason why he should hold back any longer as his leader for next year.

PICK OFFICERS FOR COLLEGE WRESTLERS

Mat Artists Begin Workouts for Season—Many Stars Are Included.

Robert Alexander, Soperton, junior and Ralph Thomas, Sherry, sophomore have been elected as manager and captain of the Lawrence wrestling team for the present season. The management is a permanent position while the captaincy continues only until the team is picked for the intercollegiate meets. Both men were members of last year's squad. Alexander being a lightweight and Thomas a middleweight.

The squad now consists of 53 men. Bannerman, one of the best bets from the freshman class in the 145 pound class is out of the game for the season with an injury, but the other members of the squad are rounding into good form for the first meets of the season. The collegiate wrestling season will commence on Friday, Dec. 10 at eight o'clock in the evening in Alexander gymnasium when the fifth annual school wrestling championships and interclass tournament will be staged. The men have been working hard the past few weeks and many exciting bouts are expected.

The battle for class supremacy will probably be between the freshmen and sophomores this year with the junior class standing a show of coping first honors. Preliminaries are being held this week to eliminate all but two men in each class. The survivors of the preliminaries will then appear in the finals. Silver and bronze medals for first and second honors are again to be the prize.

The most interesting match of the tournament will probably be the one between Kubitz, football captain and basketball star and Thomas. The latter is considered to be one of the fastest men on the mat today and this bout will be a real test of grappling prowess.

NEED MACHINE TO COUNT HIS SCORES

Benny Boynton, Williams Captain, Leads Gridiron Score Getters.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New York.—Benny Boynton, alias the Williams football squad of Williamstown, Mass., is just about all set to become the star individual point scorer in gridiron circles for the year 1920.

There are ten other players on the Williams team, but this story is going to be about Boynton, because everything that has been done this year seems to be "thanks to Benny."

Gets Good Start

Williams started out the year by trouncing Rensselaer to the tune of 63 to 0. In this game Boynton scored 33 of the points, or better than 50 per cent.

In the next game Williams trimmed Union 35 to 0, and Boynton came through with 15 points. About 50 per cent.

Right here you're supposed to forget that Harvard shipped a 33 to 0 win over on Williams—because Boynton failed to cross the goal line.

And then came Trinity to take a 62 to 0 trouncing. Boynton made up for his loss of points in the Harvard game by totaling six touchdowns for 36 markers. This was better than 50 per cent of the team's total.

Benny Runs Wild

Columbia spilled the Williams beans next by trimming Captain Boynton's crew 29 to 14. But Benny got one of the two touchdowns his squad made.

In the prize scoring event of the season Williams sent Hamilton home with an 81 to 7 black eye. And Benny only took five touchdowns and four field goals as his share of the score.

Once more almost 50 per cent of the total points made.

All told for the season, including the November 6th game, with Hamilton, Williams has scored 255 points against her opponents 74. Of the 255 Boynton is credited with 124.

In football circles Benny leads the list in point making right now. And the next man to him has got to move some to take the honor away from Benny. His Hamilton game points almost puts him high, dry and safe for the season.

BUSHEY TEAM LOSES TO MINERS, 40 TO 39

With Kenney back in the game, Bushey Business college basketball team, threw a scare into the Houghton College of Mines team Saturday night by holding the squad to a 40 to 39 score. The collegians were ten points ahead a few minutes before the end of the game when the Bushey team began a spurt which cut down the Michigan lead to a single point. The referee's whistle ended the game at that point, probably saving the northerners from defeat.

The Michigan school has booked games with Lawrence, University of Michigan, University of Chicago, Michigan Agricultural college, Marquette University and the Milwaukee School of Engineering. It is the strongest team in the northern peninsula. Fred Bushey, manager of the Appleton team, is well satisfied by the showing made by his squad on the northern trip. Three games have been won and two lost thus far.

DEMPSEY AND GEORGES MAY FIGHT IN ENGLAND

New York.—Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier may meet for the world's championship in England, according to the latest stories.

Promoter Tex Rickard admits the possibility and Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, says he will not object now to making the trip across the ocean.

Sentiment in New York against the bout is thought to have prompted the promoters to look to foreign fields for an emergency site.

Donald Dyer, who recently submitted to an operation for appendicitis at his home at Lancaster, has returned to his studies at Lawrence college.

Charles F. Moses of Sheboygan, was here on business Monday.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenburh, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenburh has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was hopeless.

Allenburh relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenburh who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desired all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenburh decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Schmitt, Bros. Company, Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy to guarantee it in every instance.

WELLING SUSPENDED FOR A YEAR FOR STALLING

Milwaukee.—Joe Welling can have plenty of time to recover from the mistreatment he received at the hands of Benny Leonard in New York recently as far as Wisconsin is concerned. He was "laid off" for a year by the state boxing commission yesterday for his ten round bunny hug with Lew Tendler here. In view of the fact the commission ruled Welling "laid down" in his bout with the Philadelphia newsboy, boxing fans here are wondering if he was nervous and afraid of the Philadelphian.

Miss Bernice Swift of New London spent Monday evening in the city.

Economy

You will observe that the artist's conception of economy is a roll of bills. Like most other people, he is wrong. He thinks of economy solely in terms of money. He forgets that it may also be expressed by quality and the longer service that goes with it.

That hand with the roll of bills evidently belongs to a man who bought a cheap suit, which will need replacing in six or eight months. If he had put it into a better suit he could have gotten two years' wear out of it and saved the price of another suit. He doesn't know it, but it has cost him fifty dollars to save ten!

For fine quality, talented workmanship, lasting wear, and fair prices, we still stick to our old opinion—
